

Strategy as a not-for-profit organisation

CILT.MO is a professional and non-for-profit organization registered in the Macao Special Administrative Region and formed by people in the field of supply chains, logistics and transport, in various disciplines such as academics, practitioners, industries and businesses, and through internationally recognised education and training systems, to ensure there can be sufficient qualified specialists to provide updated information in an actively and influentially role, in the long term development of the logistics and transport industries, and to mutually promote the planning, management and development of supply chains, logistics and transport in the region of Macao, and to enhance the professional levels as well as people's quality of life.

Following are our strategies for achieving above objectives:

1. to promote the science and arts of the development of supply chains, logistics and transport, in Macao and neighbouring regions;
2. to raise the professional levels of members through assessment and examination;
3. to encourage the active participation of members in continued professional education;
4. to cooperate with government or order organisations to enhance the standard of CILT.mo;
5. to promote the development of research in practical ways to improve logistics and transport;
6. to publish professional publications in supply chains, logistics and transport
7. to organise meetings and visits in logistics and transport regularly;
8. to organise conference, exhibitions, activities and seminars in supply chains, logistics and transport;
9. to support research in supply chains, logistics and transport and to participate various social affairs;
10. to participate in all matters related to the principles of CILT.mo.

